UMPIRE MACE AND

Responsible For Roanoke's Defeat Vesterday.

The Decisions of the Umpire Were Again Particularly Offensive to the Rooters Roanokes Played a Fine Fielding Gum and the Pitching Was All Right Until the Eighth Inning.

Umpire Mace's rank decisions and the fact that Boyd weakened in the eighth inning yesterday were responsible for Roanoke's second defeat at the hands of the Petersburgs. The local team played a beautiful fielding game, and also hit the ball hard and often, but Mace gave them the worst of it on every close decision and practically robbed them of two, if not more, runs.

robbed them of two, if not more, runs.

The bleechers took offense at his work early in the game and were not slow in expressing their disapproval. In the seventh Mace fined McHooveter $5. Mac knocked a slow one to Myers, who got the ball to first just in time to retire the runner. When he was called out McHooveter fell on his knees and raised his clasped hands to Heaven. Mace promptly brought him to his feet with a $5 fine and then the big left fielder wanted satisfaction. He was quieted down, however, before any harm was done.

Smith, the new man from Washington, was down to play center field in place of McGinnis, but he injured his finger during practice and had to retire.

he injured his finger during practice and had to retire.

McCoy was also slated to pitch. Owing to a sore arm, however, he went to right field and Boyd went into the box. Jake held his opponents down pretty well until the eighth, when he was hit for six singles and a two-bagber. This allowed Petersburg to score five runs and win the game. For the five runs and win the game. For the visitors the batting of Brodie and Hun-nicutt and the fielding of Farrell were the features.

Reanoke went first to the bat, but did not score, although O'Hagan led off with a hit. Petersburg fared a little better. Sanford was given his base on balls, went to third on Brodie's double, and scored on Farrell'd fly to center. Roanoke took the lead in the second. Rosnoke took the tead in the second. Cavanaugh went out, Myors to Hunnicutt. MzCoy made a single, but was thrown out trying to steal second. Frech followed with a single and scored on Maginnis' three-bagger to center. "Mac" scored a moment later on O'Hagan's single.

Petersburg tied the score in the second when Hunnicutt, the first man up, sent the ball over the left field fence for a home run. The next three batters were retired in one, two, three order.

were retired in one, two, three order. They forged ahead in the third, Brodie duplicating Hunnicutt's home run hit.

No more scoring was done until the fifth when Roanoke once more took the lead and made their last runs of the game. Boyd, Crockett and Cavanaugh hit safely, and, aided by errors by Brodie and Myers, three runs were scored. This put Roanoke two ahead, and the rooters were happy. That is as happy as they could be with Mace's um happy as they could be with Mace's umpiring.

Just as everyone was beginning to think that Roanoke had won another game the aspect of things changed. Petersburg were taking their eighth innings. Farrell, the first batter, flew out to Cavanaugh. Then the fireworks began. Myers, Hunnicutt, Smith, Keifer and Brodie made singles, Stafford got in a double and McHooveter made a wild throw. When the smoke cleared away Petersburg had scored five runs away Petersburg had scored five runs and won the game. Following is the score.

Mr. Payne Demands a New Umpire. John M. Payne, president of the Roanoke Athletic Club and also a member of the executive committee of the State league, sent the following tele-gram to President Sommers, at Norfolk, last night:

"We must have another umpire to morrow. Mace's incompetency and partiality is driving patrons from our grounds. Answer quick as must adver tise to get crowd to-morrow."

The telegram was signed by Mr. Payne as a member of the executive committee. Mr. Paynestated to a Times reporter last night that he would protest yesterday's game.

Kicking Against Umpire Clark, Too. Norrolk, June 15.-Norfolk won from Lynchburg in an interesting game, for every point of which the visitors contested warmly. The Lynchburgers found some of Umpire Clark's decisions faulty and Third Baseman Switzer fined $2 for denouncing them as such.

Staunton Won Easily.

STAUNTON, June 15 —The locals defeated the Legislators to day with very little trouble by a score of 10 to S. Rank decisions in the eighth and ninth innings, however, came near losing the game for Staunton. Malarkey pitched a splendid game, having the visitors' hits well scattered. Plummer was found for many hits, but the locals were unable to bunch them except in three innings. Staunton's errors were costly. The Jury, However, Make a Recommenda tion for Mercy-A Stay of Sentence.

New York, June 15.-The case against Erastus Wiman, charged with forgery, was given to the jury at 2:34 p. m. At 4:30 the jury brought in a vordict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy. The foreman of the jury concluded bis report by faltering, 'I am sorry, very sorry,' looking about him in a dazed manner.

Lawyer Boardman, of counsel for Mr. Wiman, then asked a stay of sentence. Judge Ingraham readily granted the request and named Wednesday, the 20th instant, at 10 o'clock, when he will pronounce sentence, unless Wiman's counsel shall meanwhile secure a further stay.

Mr. Wiman was handed over to Deputy Sheriff Brown. He received the verdict with less emotion than it was supposed he would. Before leaving the courtroom he shook hands with his counsel and as many of his friends as could cluster around him. He waved the reporters off with a sad smile. He was accompanied to the Tombs by his two sons.

ACTION AGAIN ON THE BILL.

Some Unnecessary Speechmaking Was Made, However.

A Resolution of Peffer's on the Wool Schedule Still Pending-Several Republican Amendments Voted Down. One Comes Near Being Accepted-No Action Yet on Jones' Amendment.

WASHINGTON, June 15 .- I'he Senate passed to-day from the region of debate to that of action on the wool schedule of the tariff bill. The talking continued from 10:30 to 3:30, but none of the speeches presented anything very new or remarkable except one by Mr. Proctor, who made good use of his Bible reading to illustrate his view of the attack made upon the wool industry of the country. He discovered in the murder of Abel, "a keeper of sheep," by der of Abel, "a keeper of sheep," by Cain, "a tiller of the ground," the first historical mention of hostility to the sheep industry, and he predicted that in this case, as in that, "a mark would be set" upon the Democrats and that they would be forced to cry out "my punishment is greater than I can bear."

A good many votes were taken upon amendments offered on the Republican side of the chamber, and, while all of these amendments were rejected, one of these amendments were rejected, one of them came very nearly being carried. It was an amendment offered by Mr. Pef-fer to substitute the McKinley classifi-cation on weelen goods (reduced to recation on woolen goods (reduced 50 per cent) and the vote upon it was: Yeas, 33; nays, 35, the whole four Populists voting nays, 35, the whole four reputation in the affirmative.

When the Senate adjourned another amendment of Mr. Peffer was pending to put all woolen manufactures on the free list. No action has been taken on the free list. So action has been taken on the free list. Jones' amendment to strike out the House paragraph leaving wool on the dutiable list, nor in fact has the amendment been formally offered A small deficiency bill for printing expenses and some other items was passed, and then, at 6:30, after a short executive session, the Senate adjourned until to morrow at 10 a. m.

The Day in the House.

The Day in the House.

Washington, June 15.—Prayer was offered to-day by Rev. R. W. Springer, son of Representative Springer, recently appointed a post chaplain by President Cleveland. Again no opportunity was given for the consideration of business under unanimous consent and the committees were at once called for reports. Among the bills reported was one for a public building at Chicago and one authorizing the erection of a Government printing office on one of the public reservations in the city of Washington.

Outhwaite reported a resolution from the committee on rules directing the immediate consideration of the Indian immediate consideration of the Indian appropriation bill under the five-minute rule until 3:30 o'clock, when the previous question shall be considered as ordered on all pending amendments and on the passage of the bill.

Mr. Richardson (Tenn), rising to a question of personal privilege, sent to the clerk's desk and had read the editorial in the Evening News of yesterday relating to the charges contained in its local column connecting Richard.

The speaker then declared the House in committee of the whole and the read-ing of the bill was begun in accordance with the understanding that the agreement for debate previously made should be respected. McRae (Dem., Ark.) was made given half an hour to oppose the provisions of the bill directing the transfer to the credit of the Indian tribes interested upon the books of the Treasury of certain non-paying State bonds or stocks, and thereupon they shall become the property of the United States and are to be sold by the Secretary of the Treasury.

which interest has not been paid, and which is in controversy, amounting to something over $3,000,000. Mr. McRae denounced the proposed legislation. Swanson and Wise opposed the provision, denouncing it as a foul wrong to the State of Virginia to take these bonds and deny a settlement of the claims of the State against the general Government. Government

He said the United States was in-debted to Virginia, not only for advances made for the general defense in the war of 1812, but for $120,000 to build the very Capitol in which the House was meeting. Points of order were made against the provisions of the bill quoted, and these were sustained by the chair. So these provisions disappeared from the bill.

At 5 o'clock the House took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session being for the consideration of private pension bills.

At the evening session pension mat-ters were discussed and but one bill was passed. The House adjourned at 10:30.

THE WEATHER.

NEW YORK CONFERENCE.

Southern Interests to be Discussed in a Business-like Way.

WASHINGTON, June 15 .- The Southern business conference, to be held at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, next Thursday gives promise of momentous results. It is now expected that every great business interest, every city of importance, every board of trade and every transportation company will be present by notable representatives equal in character to the striking list of New Yorkers who have joined in the call for a business talk.

No speeches will be made, cold business only will occupy the meeting. In addition to the purely circumstantial and industrial representatives present from the South, Senator Patrick Walsh Secretaries Hoke Smith and Herbert expect to attend, while Governor Northen has been urged by a numerously signed telegram from New York to be present and preside at the gathering.

It is believed that ways and means will be devised at this meeting for an immediate fund of $250,000 to give publicity throughout the States and the world to the supreme advantages of the whole South, to the end of bringing into it millions of new capital, many new industries and desirable immigration.

If this gathering is successful a new era of enterprise, progress and profit awaits the South. It is estimated that the signers of the paper are worth personally and represent one thousand million dollars.

THE STRIKE SETTLEMENT.

More Favorable Outlook From Important

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 15 - Telegrams from mining towns in Ohio to-day indicate that the miners are commencing to think better of the settlement agreement. At Nelsonville, Yorkville, Sand Run and Bellaire they have agreed to accept the settlement and go to work on Monday.

President John McBride, in an interview published here this evening, gave to the public faces that will be more potent in inducing the miners to accept the settlement than the formal address sent out from the national headquarters last Tuesday.
It shows that the miners organization undertook the strike when it was in a weak condition, that the strike was in constant danger of going to pieces through all its course and that when it was ended it was known by the national officers that it was a question of compromise or utter defeat.
